

Welcome to the Ask the Appraiser Panel

A note to John, Woody & David

Hi John, Woody, and David,

First, thank you — genuinely — for saying yes to this. The three of you bring exactly the kind of real, in-the-trenches experience that makes a session worth showing up for, and I'm excited about what we're going to build together.

Why we created ValuSignal

We kept seeing the same gap: appraisers have plenty of places to earn CE hours, but almost nowhere to have honest conversations about running the business — strategy, AI, new revenue, and where the profession is actually headed. So we built ValuSignal to be the room that “CE can't touch.” It's “Where Valuation Does Business” — September 18–19, 2026, fully virtual, with sessions kept short and practical because everyone's busy. No CE designation, on purpose, so we can talk candidly.

Who we're doing this for

Your panel is built for one audience: real estate appraisers and the aspiring appraisers coming up behind them — residential, commercial, and personal property. People who want to build something sustainable, not just survive the next assignment. That's why “Ask the Appraiser: Strategies to Building Sustainable Business Growth” fits so well — it's peers helping peers grow.

If we get the right voices in the room (and the right sponsors behind it), I have no doubt this becomes one of the standout sessions of the weekend. Let's make it count.

Talk soon,

Eunice Lopez
